HON. W. B. LAMAR WRITES INTERESTINGLY.

Tells of Good Roads Benefits—Of Himself Personally and His Great Financial Loss in Serving the "Dear People."

Atlantic City, N. J., August 31, 1909.
Editor True Democrat:

Your paper is doing a needed work in urging the citizens to improve the public roads. They should see the roads in New Jersey. United States Senator Briggs was here, with his family, at our hotel, for luncheon, on yesterday.

They traveled seventy miles in the forenoon, got their mid-day meal here, and were to return the same day, in the afternoon. How did they do it? By railroad? Not much. In a fine automobile. But good roads! That was the secret of it. The people of Leon county lose enough per annum, in broken vehicles, repairs, lost time, slow time, &c., &c., to pay for good roads. But it is difficult to convince and persuade people to benefit themselves. And usually it is a thankless task. What their grandparents did, is good enough for them, even though it may belong somewhat to Noah's time.

The people generally will, I hope, applaud your efforts, though a few may decry them.

Our friends may desire to know what has become of us, and I give you some lines personally. My wife and I have been at this great seashore resort for three weeks. We remain here until September 25th, and then go to New York City to witness the Hudson-Fulton celebration. This will be a great historical celebration, lasting ten days. We will remain in New York until November 1st, and may then return to Florida.

I was sorry to miss the United States Senate, of course, but I am enjoying private life. Do as you please; say what you please; travel as you please, and no one to say you, Nay.

Public life is fine, in a way. But it is an exacting life, for you have the people always to please. And it is an expensive life. Five years of it in Washington City, cost my wife and me, over $70,000. And my salary and mileage for that time was somewhat over $30,000. We both appreciated highly the honor we had, but it cost us nearly $40,000 more than we received.

And when United States senators and members of the house of representatives took free railroad passes, free telegraph, express and Pullman passes for themselves and their families—no law then against taking them—my wife and I declined taking any, and paid for these things, just like the poorest and least influential citizens in our district.

I am out of politics, with the pardonable pride, that in the thirty years I held office, no perquisite, nor special privilege stuck to my fingers—except the compensation provided by law. I never took nor enjoyed what someone has called, "honest graft."

A word as to Atlantic City. It has 40,000 inhabitants. Each Sunday in July and August, sees 250,000 people here on the seashore, on the five mile board walk and in the number of large hotels. And you can see here the impossibility of putting village fetters and restrictions upon great throngs of people.

The ministers thunder from the pulpits, and for answer the great concourse of people "kick the lid off" and do as they please. The entire city here is in sympathy with a "liberal Sunday." Hard at work all week in offices and shops and a hot city, great swarms of people rush here Saturday afternoon for a Sunday dip in old ocean. And pent up during the week trying to earn a living, this perspiring mass of toiling humanity can see no harm in a glass of beer, a game of baseball and a boating trip on Sunday, they and their families. The law is violated, of course; but public sentiment is with it all, and the only thing the ministers get out of the situation is the pulpit privilege of denouncing it. But the city and the crowd pay no more attention to them than did Martin Luther to the "Pope's Bull." The whole situation impresses one that the true solution of the traffic in whiskey, wines and beer, is to let the villages and rural districts have what they want, and to let the cities of a certain size have what they want. In the latter, the people can have the proper regulation and policing of sales that can never obtain in villages and rural districts. The situation here, is one of open defiance of the law governing the sales of liquor, wines and beer. And the overwhelming sentiment is with it all. Grand juries do not act, and the result is contempt for the law, and this is far worse than a well regulated and limited Sunday selling as is allowed—I understand—in New York City.

At the hotel I am stopping at, I can sign a card for a bottle of beer or wine, on Saturday, to be furnished on Sunday. The sale is held to be on Saturday and thus the hotel steps around the Sunday selling law—and our hotel is the finest here, and palatial in size and appointments.

All of this shows what human nature is. When hundreds of thousands of people want anything, they are usually the law, and will get what they want, whether someone else likes it or not. Don't fail to mail The True Democrat to me. Very truly yours,
W. B. LAMAR.

WANT A JOB?

Three Thousand Temporary Census Clerks Wanted by United States Government.

The Bureau of Census has announced that nearly three thousand temporary clerks will be appointed in connection with the work of taking the thirteenth decennial census. The first examination will be held throughout the United States October 23d. Very few appointments from this examination will be made before January 1st, and not many will be made before April, 1910. The maximum force will be drawn about August 1st, next year.

These appointees will receive salaries of $600 per annum at the beginning, but promotions, it is asserted, to at least $900 yearly will be reasonably rapid for those who render satisfactory service.

Blank application forms and a circular of instructions, the bureau announces, may be obtained after September 10th by addressing the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., the Bureau of the Census, Washington, or the Secretary of the Board of Examiners at the following named places, among others: Post office, Atlanta, Ga.; custom house, New Orleans, La.

Woodville Notes.

Woodville, September 2.—I want your readers to try this for snake bite, i. e., if not controverted by the doctors. Give the one bitten alum until it makes them sick enough to cause vomiting. The alum is said to neutralize the acid poison of the snake imparted to the human system. First, bind with a good strong cloth strip above the bite. Secondly, cut open and cauterize the wound, or inject alum, or some other alkali, in it; all of which I did when our little boy was bitten by a rattlesnake. Luckily, I was near, and helped to shake the snake off, and toted the child home. Mind you, I was scrupulous about the alum remedy, and gave a little whiskey. Indeed, if the alum drench was certain to cure, it is very doubtful if the "old man" would let a drop stay there. Other complaints requiring its use, &c. The deadly acid poison of snakes kills the nerve centers very fast and the swelling is great, so bind above the wound first. I think now I would paint with iodine; also keep open the wound as a ball, to keep from sloughing off the flesh.

Tell campers and hunters to keep a piece of alum in their pocket instead of the bottle. In fact, after millions are ruined, the world will find out that whiskey can be better dispensed with than not in all materia medica.

Woodville is still putting on airs. Beginning last Friday, throngs of old men, beautiful ladies and handsome young men invaded its precincts, it being the occasion of a great meeting of the Missionary Baptist Union. Prominent delegates from all the surrounding churches being in attendance. Several good and learned preachers delivered excellent sermons. The dinner on last Saturday was—well the ladies about Woodville can just beat the world in getting up an open air dinner. Your scribe apied a chicken pie on the well laden tables and it took four men to hold him off until grace could be said. Not a man ran away so he might live to fight another day. Then the ladies have learned in the school of experience, that good cooking and good feeding, in house-keeping, is the better half of religion.

Right royal did the families of Woodville entertain the people in attendance. Thank you, say the Baptist, to all who so kindly helped them out. The visitors were so numerous we fail to name them. Rev. Holland, an old time Primitive, filled the pulpit on Saturday. Rev. Frank Wells, from Gadsden, on Sunday. Rev. Parnell, of Cradford, is still helping in week's service now going on. The next union meeting will be over the river in Gadsden county.

There will be greater association of the Primitive Baptist held here in October. J. L. W.

DOES JESUS KNOW?

Can Jesus feel the load I bear?
Does He care for my aching heart?
Can He see through the smiling face I wear,
How the tears to my eyes will start?
Does He know when the depths of my soul is stirred,
By sorrow keen and strong?
How the cheering power of one little word,
Would help my weary feet along?
Can He hear the voice of temptation low
Saying: "Give it up, for what's the gain?
A life of toil and of woe,
Of sorrow, grief and pain."

Yes, I know He can see through a smiling face
My soul with grief bowed down,
And when I with patience have run the race,
Success my toil shall crown.

He will plant my feet on firmer sod,
And soothe my keenest pain,
His cheering words, "Thou shalt see thy God,
And Heaven shall be thy gain."

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Near Death in Big Pond.

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering," she writes "and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed, and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's New Discovery brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years." Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in coughs and colds, sore lungs, hemorrhages, la grippe, asthma, croup, whooping cough and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists. 28-1m
